

CRAFT & DESIGN SALON 2014

Exhibition of Crafts, and other art forms not included in the other salons.

The Craft & Design Salon presents the third competition/exhibition to be held at Convention Huntsville, AL.

The Craft and Design Salon is the official venue for exhibiting speleologically inspired craftwork.

Craftwork can be in any medium, and be either functional or interactive and involve a craft other than fine art.

The Craft & Design Salon is a direct off-shoot from the Fine Arts Salon and welcomes artists who can think outside the box, for using speleology in our everyday lives in a useful, functional or interactive way.

ENTRIES - All entry forms must be submitted before Convention. Do not send original artwork with entry form, please!

Mail entry forms and checks only to Carolina Shrewsbury, 124 4th Ave NW, Largo FL 33771 postmarked no later than June 15th, 2014, or simply email to speleoart@hawaiiiflow.com. Artwork must be shipped to the address at Convention with return shipping labels enclosed, or to arrive in the Salon by 5pm Saturday JULY 12th, 2014.

There are 2 categories.

1. Functional- these will be for anything that can be used or worn.

-Quilts, clothes, household items, interior design, scrapbooks.

2. Interactive- This is artwork created to amuse or challenge.

-Games, plays, puppets, sensual experiences

We want to see what cavers have to offer that is creative, educational and inspired by their caving experience/interest/profession.

Help us judge this Salon with your votes. Find the Ballot Boxes in the Salons area. Participate in a Craft Salon Critique on Friday morning in the Salons.

There some simple requirements for presenting artwork at Convention, please read carefully so that you may enter and display respectful of other artists and those who staff the Convention and Salons:

1. Send/email your application form with Titles, prices (if you want to sell) and all the names of persons involved creating your work, BEFORE bringing to Convention.

2. Ensure your work arrives at Convention before 3pm on Sunday. If you are unsure you are able to keep that deadline then please ship your work. Work arriving after closing on Sunday, ie: left and not registered, will not be accepted.
3. If you ship work, PLEASE let the Salon Chairman know so that you can be provided instruction, and provide paid return shipping label for our shipping clerk.
4. Be courteous with your packing, make your artwork safe and stable but please keep it easy to repack and ship.
5. You are responsible for any damage caused through transport. So insure work appropriately. You are responsible for all shipping and packaging.
6. You are responsible for the display of your artwork, that means providing the framing and support it may need.
7. Artwork must arrive in the Salon ready to be put on a stand, table or wall. We cannot be responsible for constructing or dismantling an exhibit. If your artwork requires this, you must either be prepared to come with it, or supply your own staff to do it.
8. If your artwork requires connection to an electrical socket, please provide long cords. They need to be no shorter than 20 ft. Please notify Chairman on the form.
9. Artwork has to leave the Salon on Friday after the Critique. Be prepared to arrive at the Salon between 11:30am and 12 mid-day. If shipping, our shipping clerk will take care of it, but this notification must be clear in your application form. When packing your work for shipping, remember someone has to probably repack it, so please be considerate.
10. If you or other are coming to Convention. You will be expected to come to Salon on Friday to pack your own work.

Remember we are a group of volunteers who have given up their vacation to provide you this opportunity. Help us to provide you the best show and the best opportunity to win awards and sell artwork by just remembering to be thoughtful. If you have questions or concerns we are always able to help. We are flexible as long as we are informed. If you think anything here conflicts with your desire to enter Salon, do not hesitate to speak with the Chairman because our team exists to resolve problems and create solutions.
