<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Book Title</th>
<th>Editor(s)/Author(s)</th>
<th>Details</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>North American Vertical Rope Techniques</td>
<td>Bruce Smith and Allen Padgett</td>
<td>Hardback, full color, 464 p. NEW LOWER PRICE $45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Showplace of the South</td>
<td>Larry E. Matthews</td>
<td>Paperback, 146 p. $16. Member $15.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Complete Reference for Cave Rescue</td>
<td>John C. Hempel and Annette Fregeau-Conover, Editors</td>
<td>Hardback, 382 p. $32. Member $30.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cave Minerals of the World</td>
<td>Carol Hill and Paolo Forti</td>
<td>Hardback, 336 p. $38. Member $35.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

This full-color book is an introduction to caves for children and young adults.

It asks: When you hear the word cave, what comes to mind? Darkness? Mystery?

A scary place? Bats? Snakes? Are caves important? What are they used for? Are they dangerous?

As you read this book, we hope you’ll discover the answers to these questions and more, in the hidden world beneath the earth.

Paperback, full color, 48 p. $10. Member $9.00.

Now in its third edition, this popular book covers everything the beginning caver needs to know about exploring the underground wilderness safely and responsibly.

Includes complete data on the latest techniques and equipment, plus definitive chapters on cave sciences: geology, biology, and archaeology.

This book is an ideal starting point for beginning cavers.

Paperback, 188 p. $11. Member $10.

Now in its third edition, this popular book covers everything the beginning caver needs to know about exploring the underground wilderness safely and responsibly.

Includes complete data on the latest techniques and equipment, plus definitive chapters on cave sciences: geology, biology, and archaeology.

This book is an ideal starting point for beginning cavers.

Paperback, 188 p. $11. Member $10.

NOW: Order on line at: http://www.caves.org/service/bookstore or 256-852-1300

This book covers more than 300 caves, including the world’s 255 known cave minerals.

Each and Every Newsletter–Each and Every Year

Cave descriptions and maps • Detailed exploration stories

Techniques • Equipment • History • Fiction • Humor • Art

Member Prices:

For: • Caving • Search and Rescue • Firefighting • Rope Rescue • Rock Climbing • Mountain-eering • Window Cleaning • Arborists • Event Rigging.

On Rope has gained worldwide recognition as the most authoritative book on single rope techniques (SRT). Heavily illustrated, it covers in detail: ropes, knots, rigging, harnesses, rappelling, ascending, and belaying. Includes a complete training program.

Hardback, 382 p. $32. Member $30.

The Showplace of the South

Larry E. Matthews

- Dunbar Cave—first explored 8,000 years ago by Native Americans—is now one of America’s major caves.

- Share the excitement as cave explorers and scuba divers discover miles of new passage in a cave already thoroughly explored for 150 years.

Paperback, 146 p. $16. Member $15.

On Caves and Cameras

Written by many of the NSS’s leading cave photographers, On Caves and Cameras is copiously illustrated with photographs and drawings. It includes a gallery of stunning color images, plus information about how each photograph was taken.

Hardback, 336 p. $38. Member $35.

ON STATION

George Dasher

This book covers everything both the beginning and experienced cave surveyor needs to know about surveying and mapping caves.

First it shows how to collect complete and accurate survey data, then how to draft a precise and attractive cave map ready for reproduction.

Hardback, 248 p. $17. Member $16.