ALLIGATORS

There is a possibility of alligators in this park. Swim, wade at your own risk.

Alligators are a part of real Florida and may be found, wherever there is a natural body of water. They have a natural fear of man, but may lose that fear by being around people — especially if they are fed. When this happens, alligators can be dangerous. For this reason, it is against park rules to feed or molest alligators in any way.
